Foreword

This book is designed and presented to you as a passport to memories. We hope the people and events depicted in this, our annual, will bring you always fond remembrances.

With this wish we present the St. Edward's University High School yearbook for nineteen hundred and fifty-two.

BROTHER EDMUND HUNT, C.S.C., Ph.D.
President of St. Edward's University High School, 1946 to 1952

We dedicate this yearbook to one whose superb administrative abilities and congenial personality have endeared him to all on campus. For his accomplishments and for the inspiration his being here has given us we now show our appreciation.

THE ST. EDWARD'S CLUB

The St. Ed's Club is the unseen parental power house behind much of what is accomplished in the social round and material progress of the school. season after season.

Officers: Brother Stephen Titzer, C.S.C., permanent Secretary and Moderator; Mrs. Emery Hughes, in-coming President for 1952-53; and Mr. V. F. Bomar, President for 1951-52.
Not shown, above are: Mrs. John O'Brien, Vice President; and Mrs. Rudolph Mueller, Treasurer.

A few of the generous mothers and fathers who sponsored or brought to realization many a social enterprise such as the Sweet-heart Dance.

The Explorer Scouts' intermural softball team, which played four, and won two, by defeating the Seniors and the Sophomores. Top: Cullen, Marlbury, Fernandez, Miller, and Ochoa. Bottom: Laritz, Bruno, Drapela, Potter, and Martin.

In the spotlight on the Organizations' sections's division page were seen the Color Guards of Post 4's marching unit, which pranced down Congress Avenue in civic parades on several occasions.

St. Edward's University High School boasts of being one of very few high schools in the country having its very own scout organization and faculty members as directors.

Bro. Stanley Repucci, C.S.C., is scoutmaster, and Bro. Joseph Popma, C.S.C., is assistant scoutmaster and committee chairman.

St. Ed's also takes no little pride in the fact that all scout equipment is furnished by the school. And the scouts all proudly boast to be Explorer Scouts, the newest type of charter members of the Boy Scouts of America.

Other than their monthly bivouac on, or far beyond, St. Edward's six hundred acres, the Explorers have frequent over-night camping fun with Bro. Stanley, C.S.C., on St. Ed's own land.

The

Riders

Above: Pausing on the trail are: Albert Hyzak, Sidney Long, Mark Ritter (head down), Micky Laritz, Mike Martin, Knobby Rutherford, Leo Braun (head hidden), and Mike Nelms (standing).

The organization of The Riders consists in three things: their constant companionship in idle hours at the stables or on the trail, their common love of horses, and riding, and their supervision by Bro. Silverius Adelman, C.S.C.

Members are: Danny Gillean, David Drapela, Albert Hyzak, Sidney Long, Mark Ritter, Micky Laritz, Mike Martin, Knobby Rutherford, Mike Nelms, and Leo Braun.

Glee Club Director: Bro. John Snoddy, C.S.C.

The Bookmen

One of the newest organizations in school is Bro. John Fos, C.S.C.'s, Freshman English group, whose purposes are strictly literary. Their activities include written and mimeographed news reports of the intermural sports programs, and the establishment and perpetuation of a continually circulating Freshman library. Members are: Peter Brady, Mike Schurr, Albert Bieter, Herby Boswell, Pat McNamara, Tim O'Leary, Joseph Murphy, Luddy Scotka, Edmund Weinheimer, and Clark Taylor.

Assembly

Forensic

The President of St. Edward's University Award for Excellence in Elocution was awarded to Ruddy Fernandez (center). Honorable mention was given Charles (Bud) Staples (right), and Shaun O'Brien (left).

Recreation

A crucial moment in the Billiards Contest sponsored by Bro. Stanley, C.S.C. Shooting is Juve Reyes, First place winner. Second was Tim O'Brien, center. Watching are: Luis Garcia, Edmund Weinheimer, Luddy Scotka; Frank Miller, Bud Staples, George Moran, Tommy Atchison, Glenn Burkholder and Matt Gubbles. The winner's trophy is shown on the table.

Also in the Recreation Room, was the Table Tennis Contest, also refereed by Bro. Stanley, C.S.C. Shown in the middle and holding his trophy is Glenn Burkholder, winner, while runners up Bennie Kainer and Luddy Scotka look admiringly on.

Here shown in the Hobby Shop are: Irv. Herskowitz, first place winner of the Miniature Racer Derby, held in the gym by Bro. Stanley, C.S.C., who is next in line. Next are the first and second place winners in the Annual Christmas Hobby and Craft Contest, Clark Taylor and Bobby Qualia, respectively.

DOWN the Cafeteria line come: 1. Carlos Pena, 2. Edmundo Garcia, 3. probably Bennie (Longreach) Kainer, 4. James Kmiecik, 5. Luis Garcia, 6. Gaston Guerra, 7. ?, 8. Pablo Giacinti, 9. Furio DeMarta, 10. Manuel Vivas, and 11. partly visible Matt Gubbles. The servers were, (starting at the front): Sidney Long, Homero Rodriguez, and Mike Martin.

DOWN in the water of the swimming pool in the gymnasium building are: Reynoldo Ramirez and Luis Garcia (back to camera) getting a word or two of instruction from Bob Ferguson.

OUT of the bus pour the St. Ed's rooters headed for the Austin High basketball game. From the rear door come: Glenn Burkholder, Carlos Pena, Jorge Alonso, Salvador Briones, and John Williams descends talking to Johnny Miscelem. The four to the right are: Gilbert Rogers, Dick Albright, Jack Trice, and James Cullen. The middle group includes: Jerry Goodman, George Moran, Matt Gubbles (behind George), John Tamborello, Jerry Smith, Charles Townsend, Ruddy Fernandez, David Barnes, Joe Nieto, Martin Gomez, and Jorge Castaneda (descending)

OUT in the gymnasium every Wednesday night used to come the special Dancing Instructress shown below with Frank Miller. Whether or not it was because it necessitated a speeded-up study-hall, we aren't sure, but everybody seemed to turn out and have a good time.

RIGHT in the middle of a half-time talk, Coach Jensen gets plenty serious and intense with the basketball boys.

JUST loafing out in front of the building and looking coy for the camera is Marty Tynan.

JUST before individually assuming the roles of teachers before the St. Ed's Club and instructing the parents upon some of the more involved aspects of life and the universe, these scientists of Bro. Stanley, C.S.C., show various degrees of self-assurance. They are, left to right: Don Smith, Kenny Richter, Danny Lambert, Davy Drapela, George Moran, Walter Richter, Brooke Alexander, Tony Rocha, and Jimmy Richards.

Brooke Alexander is one of many Cubs who enjoy the electric train in the Hobby Shop.

No volumes of words rightly amplify our expression of indebtedness and gratitude. Therefore, to each named above, to Bro. Randolph Austin, C.S.C., Director of the annual St. Edward's University Yearbook Clinic, for his special guidance and assistance, to Gus Opperman, Bill Bishoff, and, in particular, John Campbell for special photography. To Bro. Cornelius Corcoran, C.S.C., for his generous help, and to all who co-operated, we can but record our sincere, first mental response of: "Gosh, thank you!"
